Aviator Pleads Guilty Of Failing To Register

KESWICK ASSAULT LENGTHY CASE

Ward Phelan of Toronto appeared at Newmarket Police Court Tuesday on charges of failing to register and vagrancy. He was represented by Lewis Raxlen of Toronto.

"On October 29th, the accused was brought to the Newmarket Police Station by Constable James Sloss. 'The following morning I saw Phelan in the cells and asked him for his registration card. He stated that he didn't have one, and didn't know he had to register. He had been out of the country at the time of registration, in August.'"

"I had been in Toronto for a few days, and had a commission in the air force in view," said Phelan, who is an aviator. "I have been in New Zealand for the past two and one half to three years, and intended to go straight in the air force. Is it compulsory for commissioned officers to register?"

"Everyone must register," replied Crown Attorney Mathews. The accused could not remember when he had arrived back in Canada, but suggested that his wife, who was present in court, might remember.

"We left New Zealand on the 10th of September and came straight to Toronto," said Mrs. Phelan. "I think we were in Toronto about the first of October."

The charge of vagrancy was dismissed. Mr. Mathews stated that another charge would be laid, and asked for an adjourn-

Phelan was remanded for one week. Bail was set at $200.

Charles E. Lewis of the Township of Whitechurch pleaded guilty to a charge of making an improper left hand turn.

"I was called to the scene of an accident at the intersection of Eagle and Yonge Streets," testified Constable Ferguson. "The accused had been driving south and started to make a left-hand

Ancient Pop Bottle Unearthed At Camp

NEWMARKET FAIR BROUGHT TO LIFE

A link with the forgotten past was unearthed last week by "D" Company. While digging a trench on the south side of the race track, their spades uncovered an ancient green coloured pop or "soda water" bottle, made in Whitby in 1869.

It was learned that the whole south side of the race track was once covered with many ornate frame buildings - headquarters of the famous Newmarket Exhibition of other years.

This Exhibition, when it was held, was once one of the largest, most well-attended country fairs in Ontario, and a buggy ride to the "Newmarket Agricultural Grounds" was a big event in the lives of many York Township residents.

It was doubtless one of those gay rural people of another age who tossed the empty "soda" bottle, little knowing it would be unearthed seventy-one years later by a grim soldier of the Twentieth Century.

As the years passed by, a series of disastrous fires swept away the Newmarket Fair Ground buildings one by one. Several years ago, another mysterious fire swept away the grandstand. The present grandstand was the gift of Abe Orpen, well-known Toronto racing promoter, and is a comparatively new structure.

The only remaining building of the original Newmarket Fair is now the long, boarded-up shed at the south-east end of the race track, which was once the poultry house of the Newmarket Exhibition.

Times pass and scenes continually change, but it does seem a bit tragic that the delightful country fair ground of a few years ago, where farmers showed their prize pumpkins, where stallions reared, where buxom country housewives vied with each other at baking apple pies, should become the theatre of grim military training which it is to-day.

Beloved Citizen, G. A. Binns, Passes

MANY YEARS IN BUSINESS IN NATIVE TOWN

There was laid to rest on Thursday afternoon, one of Newmarket's lifelong best known citizens, George Alexander Binns (Ald). He was born in Newmarket 1867, learning the hardware trade with J. C. Robertson, where Bolton's bakery now stands.

After working in Orillia, Toronto, Montreal and other places, he started business in 1890 in Newmarket, where the T. Eaton office is now located, later moving across the street to the site now occupied by the bank of Toronto.

His last business move was to build the store now occupied by Macnab's hardware, selling out to J. D. Rowland about 1928. Since then Mr. Binns has lived retired.

As a young man, he was always interested in all sports, being one of the charter members of the Highwheel Bicycle Club of 1885. He has held office in curling, bowling and bicycle clubs, and been a member of the town council, high school and cemetery boards, past master of Masonic Lodge.

The family was one of the first to open a summer cottage at Orchard Beach, Lake Simcoe.

Besides his widow, he leaves a daughter, Florence, of Toronto, Mrs. T. B. Scott (Marjory), and son, Gordon, of Newmarket. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Howard Porter (Effie) of Ottawa, two brothers, Frank of Montreal and George of Halifax.

RED CROSS DANCE

HUGE SUCCESS

The dance held last Friday evening, under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the Newmarket Red Cross, was one of the most successful and most enjoyed dances ever held in town. After paying all expenses, $130 was turned over to the Newmarket Red Cross.

Some 350 persons attended. Everyone entered into the spirit of the dance most congenially, and the splendid representation of our military men added much to the evening. Everyone reports a wonderful time, and are just looking forward to another one in the near future.

The committee wishes to thank most sincerely the members of the Red Cross executive for their very able assistance. Also those who donated prizes and everyone who helped in any way to make the dance the success it was.

RUMOR UNFOUNDED

There has been a rumor the past month or so, that the Red Cross are selling the supplies that are made by the different Red Cross branches. Might I, as a soldier's wife, give you my own husband's view in a letter just received from England, that the soldiers are given these supplies with no thought of payment whatsoever, so quote his own words:

"Now so far as the Red Cross situation goes, mind you I'm only speaking for my own regiment. 'We certainly have no complaints to make. We had a service chap from Red Cross headquarters around the other day, and he got a list of what we needed in socks, sweaters, scarves etc., and they will be sent in to us from their London headquarters.'"

So maybe all those who had heard this rumor thought maybe there was some truth in it, would like to know as far as the boys in England are concerned, they all looked after.

CAR CRASHES POLE. POWER OFF CONSIDERABLE TIME

The relieving agent at the C.N.R., crashing a light pole at the east corner of Main and Huron Friday night, threw that section of the town, into considerable light difficulty for more than two days.

One complete circuit, and one wire of each of two other circuits go over this pole, and as it carries 4,000 volts, the line had to be dead before it could be worked on.

The new plan for wiring in town calls for dividing the load so that when an occurrence like this happens, only a small section will be affected.

TRAINEE PARADE THROUGH TOWN

Our last Sunday at camp was indeed one to be long remembered. The weekly Drumhead Service was an inspiring sight. As one glanced over the recruits, it seemed as if a carpet of khaki, studded with golden gems, had been laid over the ground as brightly-shined buttons twinkled in the bright noon sun.

The service, conducted from a Union Jack bedecked pulpit, by Capt. Andrews, was certainly the most inspirational one yet. Captain Andrews chose as his sermon, "Loyalty, Courage and Consecration." Speaking his farewell to the trainees, the Padre said, "Be loyal to the royal in yourself." He went on to explain that we should be at all times, loyal to our country, our beliefs, our associates and ourselves. Continuing, the Captain told us that courage was one of the seven cardinal virtues, and that Christ had exhorted us to be courageous. Congratulations were extended to the trainees for our conduct while up here.

Soon we would be returning to our jobs, to civilian life, Captain Andrews continued, and he expressed hopes that not one of us would rest until he had found a place where he would be most useful to God and his fellow man. "Do your utmost to Him who has done so much for you," the Padre said.

Concluding his talk, Captain Andrews said: "Go out into the night, put your hand into the hand of God. That will be to you better than a light and surer than the known way."

The singing of "God Save the King" was most impressive. Save for the greatcoats fluttering in the breeze, there was not a movement of any sort.

Following the service, the battalion, led by the R.S.A. Bugle Band, and with the Citizens' Band following, marched through Newmarket. Small knots of people had gathered and the tramp of marching feet was accompanied

Ald. Evans Advocates $5,000 Expenditure At Waterworks

In England

SUPPLY ADEQUATE BUT NEEDS TO BE FILTERED

Ald. Arthur Evans, chairman of the water and light committee, presented a verbal report to council Monday night, advocating an expenditure of some $5000 at the waterworks. This was made up of repairs to water catch basin $800, new building $1200, filterers $3000. More water is passing through the old basin at the foot of Main street than at Strigley street, the cement walls, and old building is in bad repair, and as there is no filtration, the seepage may be causing much of the bad taste noticed in the water lately.

Ald. Mungovan inquired how it was that Dr. Wesley reported the water class "A," while the report from the military camp showed it to be class "D."

Ald. Evans replied that the water delivered to the camp was class "A," but the new pipes and packing might be responsible for the camp condition. In some parts of the camp the water was alright, while in others it was not so good. This, however, was not the town's responsibility. The committee were doing everything they could to help the military (Continued on Page 4, Col. 5)

Sergeants Put On Evening For Boys

MRS. A. H. LEE LAID TO REST

In ill health for the past few years, and confined to her bed for the last year, the death occurred on Wednesday, October 30th, of Mrs. Adolphus Lee of Queen Street east, in her 76th year.

Born in Georgia (township), Emily Jane Wilder was married 57 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Lee farmed in that township until 20 years ago, when they moved to Newmarket.

The funeral service Friday was conducted by the Rev. B. Babcock, from the Free Methodist Church. Pallbearers were her five sons and a brother, Oliver Wilder, Beaverton.

Surviving are her husband, five sons, Stewart, Port Colborne, Cecil, Mount Albert, Edgar, Toronto, Chesley, Pine Dredhail, Bernard, Toronto; two daughters, Mrs. Lottie Eames, Toronto, and Mrs. Wm. Umphrey (Lina), Udonia; 24 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. John Prosser (Isabelle) (Keswick); Mrs. Orville Gould (Rosie), Rochester, N.Y.; Mrs. Robert Hoover (Addie), Holt; three brothers, Oliver Wilder, Beaverton; Nathaniel Wilder, Belleville, and Wesley Thompson, Toronto. One brother, Oscar is deceased.

"SHOOTING OF DAN McGREW" IS MASTERPIECE

Opening with the martial blasts of "O Canada," and other patriotic tunes, including "Polly Wolly Doodle," the Halloween party given by the Sergeants Mess for the Young Trainees, was at once a great success. If it had included only these few current-raising songs, the boys present would have considered their evening well spent; but more followed! The first solo act was miraculously performed by "Bitter-Late-Never Goodman (Sgt.) It was entitled for some unknown reason, "The Old Maid's Courtship," but to our knowledge, neither a court nor a ship appeared on the stage. Now, don't get us wrong! We enjoyed this act immensely from where we were seated (in Battalion Headquarters).

According to the programme we received, the next act we missed was Sgt. Stewart's first attempt on the bagpipes (at the party). Now we know where some of our Sergeants get the well-developed lungs they use to such advantage when shouting (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

ST. PAUL'S W.A.

The weekly Dorcas meeting of St. Paul's W.A. was held yesterday instead of to-day because of the "Market Basket" event being held in the Parish Hall, to-day.

The president reminds the members that Thursday, November 21, is the day set for packing Christmas gifts, and the sale of warm clothing for the needy settlers of the West.

The sewing circle, in connection with the Red Cross, met at the home of Mrs. Patstone, at the Rectory this week and will meet at the home of Mrs. Spence, 7 Niagara Street, next Tuesday. Next Thursday will be the monthly devotional and business meeting of the branch.

By the clicking of cameras.

The salute was taken by Lt.-Col. Duncan, D.S.O., outside the King George Hotel. After the battalion was dismissed, the trainees left camp to visit friends and families in the southern suburbs of Newmarket.

ALD. MUNGOVAN TO GIVE UP MUNICIPAL LIFE

The following statement was made by Mayor Boyd at the close of Monday evening's council session:

"I wish to announce that I will not be a candidate for mayor for the year 1941.

"I wish to thank the people of Newmarket and the members of the council for the assistance they have given me in conducting the business of the town. I wish particularly to thank those who gave me kind words and encouragement, especially during the past four months, when I have been at times very weary from constant strain and overwork.

"Recently I have sensed a certain lack of interest in the war effort among our citizens. I particularly noticed the lack of interest and the poor attendance at the annual meeting and election of officers of the Red Cross. I remember that during the last

IN PASSING TRIBUTE

In the passing of "Al" Binns, our community suffers a severe loss. As long as we can remember, Al has been a part of Newmarket. He was big, jovial and kind. Years did not impair his love of sport, and he was just as good a loser as when his team had carried off the honors.

Last year he took a keen interest in the Old Boys' reunion, and mainly through his efforts the picture gallery was an outstanding success. Al Binns was a good scout, a man's man. He enjoyed life to the full. He did not curvy favour, but spoke straight from the shoulder.

We, with you, mourn his passing. His memory will long be cherished by that host who admired his sterling qualities, and were pleased to be numbered among his friends.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT

The announcement by Mayor Boyd at Monday evening's council session, that he would not seek re-election to the office of the town's first citizen, was received with regret by those present. This, we believe, is the feeling of the townsfolk in general.

In the past seven years that he has guided the destinies of our town, the doctor has worked conscientiously to improve the community, while constantly keeping the tax rate down. He has given unsparingly of his time and talent even to the detriment of his professional and home life. The past twelve months have been strenuous indeed, and we do not blame him for becoming weary in well-doing.

We do hope, however, that if his physical strength will stand it, he will reconsider his decision and once more offer himself on the public altar.

Mayor Boyd would be hard to replace.

PREPAID HOSPITAL PLAN

Hospital and other attendant charges have put many a struggling family so deep in the red that in frequent cases it has almost been a lifetime struggle to emerge from under the load. When sickness comes the family does not count the cost until the patient has recovered, comments the Renfrew Mercury. It is not that hospital service is unduly high but no matter what the rate it weighs heavily on the finances of the average family. The decision of the Ontario Hospital Association, to provide prepaid hospital care at low cost available to employee groups all over Ontario should do much to mitigate a situation that has long called for action.

The plan as approved, will provide a maximum of twenty days' hospital care annually for a member at a fee of fifty cents per month. For another fifty cents monthly a member's family will get similar protection. Subscribers desiring semi-private accommodation in hospitals will pay a fee of seventy-five cents monthly. All may select their own hospitals and doctors but the covering is for hospital expenses only. Arrangements have been made for putting the plan into effect early in 1941.

CANADA AND BRITISH COAL

One of Great Britain's principal export trades is in rather a bad way owing to the changed war situation. We are now facing the loss of seventy-five per cent. of our normal market for coal exports. The situation is no fault of ours; indeed, only a few months ago the Mines Department handled an extremely difficult problem in reconciling the needs of France and our other overseas requirements. Although we have some compensation in a larger demand from the bunkering stations on the chief sea routes, we have to find new outlets for British coal if further pits are not to close down. The loss of foreign exchange is also important. For a long period of years past the British coal trade has set longing eyes upon the Canadian market. There has been a satisfactory demand for Welsh anthracite, but our output of the latter is limited and it is the market for bituminous coal which has been so temptingly out of reach for exporters in this country. Some Scotch coal has gone across the Atlantic in dribs and drabs, mainly by virtue of the fact that shipping moving out from this side has taken it as ballast rather than outward cargo. Nevertheless, it is rather galling to think that shopowners have to buy sand ballast for so many of their vessels making the trip out to Canada, although the Dominion imports large quantities of bituminous coal from the United States. In the ordinary way nobody would blame Canada, since she sells much of her own produce in the U.S.A., and the coal imported into the Dominion from the States has established itself over a long period of years both as regards price and quality. However, we are now at war, freely pooling our best efforts and it does not seem unreasonable to ask the industrialists of Canada to help our coal trade in its distress, particularly as such a policy would conserve the dollar resources required for other purposes.—The Syren, (London).

NOTE AND COMMENT

What about a Friday afternoon market from December on throughout the winter months. The experiment last year met with real success, and now with the town on fast-time, and the country folk on standard, the afternoon get-together of country and townfolk should be a popular move. Let us hear from our readers.

With the announcement of Mayor Boyd and Alderman Mungovan, that they would not seek re-election, it behooves us to look around and line up some municipal prospects for nomination meeting on Friday evening, Nov. 22nd.

The next ten days will see a vast change on our Main street—the in-between period at the military camp. The thousand youths who have been in our midst for the past thirty days have conducted themselves like gentlemen. Not the slightest incident has occurred to mar their record. To-day they leave us to return to their homes and various walks of life. We will miss them—and we believe they will miss Newmarket.

You can send three hundred cigarettes to a Canadian soldier in England for the small sum of one dollar. If you would care to have the names of any Newmarket boys overseas we will gladly provide them.

It would seem that Hitler made a big mistake in selecting Italy as a partner. He should have lined up those valiant Greeks.

Canadians are pleased that their cousins to the south saw fit to return as their president the man whom the whole world knows as a staunch ally of Britain, and as stalwart a foe of Hitlerism.

Scrap metal is being, or shortly will be collected in your municipality. There is a certain amount of scrap around every farm, place of business and home. What will you have to offer when the collector calls?

Shortly you will be thinking of Christmas presents. Why not browse through the town shops now, and if you do not see just what you have in mind, see if your local merchant can secure it for you. Remember, he is the man that you go to church with, meet at public and social functions, and is an all-round good fellow. Resolve that this year you will—Buy British, Buy Canadian and Buy at Home.

60 MEN AND A HUT

Out of a sheltered and family surrounded life, sixty men have been suddenly and with little warning, thrown into a single hut. A hut with 60 beds made up of upper and lower berths - a hut with three stoves, common washrooms, a hut that could only exist on the co-operation and interest of these sixty men. How have they acted? What have been their reactions? Three weeks of barrack life have been more than enough to tell the story of good-nature, unselfishness, willingness to help, and comradeship of man and fellowman. Sixty men of all creeds and races thrown together, for the most part complete strangers, have proved without a doubt that with toleration, a little understanding, and an attitude of live and let live, men can live and work at peace with his neighbour.

From the very first day when Bill said to Sam, "Help me with this legging, will you, chum," until the end of the term, the problems and joys of each man became part of hut history. There came a gradual evolution from the drab discussion of the rigours of this new life, this strange discipline, this different food, to more personal problems. As time went by, one man confided in another - told of his job, his sweetheart, his problems. They soon found many things in common. They were all interested in earning a living wage, all eager to marry that swell girl, and all fighting for that elusive ideal so dear to man - "security."

If a man had more than he could eat of some after-supper delicacy, it was passed around without regrets until there was not a crumb left. Often was the time when a trainee would pass from man to man the entire hut through, giving each friend a share of his tuck basket.

We would all sit around as a man would tell how he had been receiving $12.00 a week for the past three years, and did not know what to do about it. Another laughingly confided that his girl friend would throw him over if he did not improve his earning capacity. A little fellow in the background admitted a life-long ambition to study the piano, but never had the opportunity. And so it went on - one after the other told his story to his contemporary heirs of Twentieth Century civilization.

Toleration and respect for man's beliefs and feelings was the keynote and foundation of this most miscellaneous group. A man went to church on Sunday; a man did not. Both individuals were treated alike. A man was respected for what he did and how he lived, not for the particular faith he believed in.

Sixty men will go away at the term end, having come in contact with more men of their own age than they ever had before; they will go away with the common knowledge that their problem is the problem of every single man. They have learned and experienced what co-operation and understanding can do for them.

MILITARY RITES

FOR W. ROGERS

Lieut.-Col. William T. Rogers, one-time commanding officer of the Queen's York Rangers, was buried Monday in Park Lawn Cemetery with full military honors. Connected for more than forty years with the Canadian militia, he served with the rank of major through the last war. The funeral service held from his home, 76 Old Mill Road, was conducted by two former chaplains of the Rangers, Capt. the Rev. P. J. Dykes and Capt. the Rev. P. Cecil Cox.

The funeral cortege was led to the cemetery, by an escort of several hundred men of the Rangers. The gun-carriage with the flag-draped casket was flanked by the bearer party and the honorary pallbearers, many of them officers who had served with Colonel Rogers.

Following the firing of three volleys at the graveside by the firing party, the bugler sounded "Last Post" and "Reveille."

Honorary pallbearers were: Lieut.-Col. F. H. Dunham, M.C., V.D.; Lieut.-Col. J. H. Bennett, V.D.; Lieut.-Col. H. W. A. Foster, D.S.O., M.C.; Lieut.-Col. R. C. Merrick, M.C., E.D., former commanding officer of the Rangers; Lieut.-Col. J. M. Muir, E.D.; Major J. D. Barnett, M.D.; Major C. H. Reeve, E.D.; and Capt. W. O. Canning.

Life In Iceland; or The Land of the Midnight Sun

By Golden Glow

I have had ever so many requests that I write more about the life our six Newmarket soldier boys of the Royal Regiment of Canada are living away up on the edge of the Arctic circle, so recently the land of the midnight sun, so once again I'll make that the subject for a Golden Glow article.

It takes over a month for letters to arrive from that far place—and correspondence in consequence is not exactly satisfactory, for you have to wait two months for an answer to every query. It does seem a long while to wait to receive assurance that the parcels we send have arrived safely, but they DO arrive, so we must just keep on packing them, and starting them off regularly—especially now when the dark season is before them!

A letter dated early in October stated that it was dark by seven o'clock, and presently they will be in the dark by 3 p.m., with only a few hours of daylight, or semi-daylight in the middle of the day. They have candles for light, but if they are situated near one of the glacier streams, they may manage to generate electricity and so have electric lights, for there are many fast-rushing rivers, indeed raging torrents with mighty waterfalls which could supply power for all their needs. However, on outpost duty, they no doubt use tents, and of course candles.

In one letter one of our boys tells of being on an island to the south of the mainland, and of some lumber having been brought for their use, and of how the people there envied them, for as you may know by now, from my other articles, there are no trees on the island, only a few scrub bushes and a few imported silver birches that are cultivated and highly treasured. No fruit trees! No beautiful hard maples like ours here in Ontario!

At long last, we begin to appreciate the fact that Icelandic farmers had quite a hard time guarding their scanty fenceposts, after our boys arrived on that inhospitable shore. Why fence-posts in Iceland are sort of heirlooms! They are handed down from one generation to the next, and not to be ruthlessly chopped up for fire-wood, as we do here in Canada. Our boys never dreamed of such a lack of wood, and it must have been quite a shock to them when they finally realized fence-posts were literally worth their weight in gold.

Speaking of gold reminds me of money, and we now are quite accustomed to seeing in our letters that certain things cost so many krona. Krona, by the way, is divided into 100 auras. I judge a krona, roughly speaking, would be about equal to our Canadian quarter, or an English shilling, but I really think its purchasing power is about double that of our Canadian quarter or a British shilling. It means a lot of change to carry around; and I understand too that the rate of exchange is pretty high, so I'd advise relatives of the boys to send gifts of candy, chocolates, cigarettes or warm clothing in place of money, especially as there are quite a few things that are very expensive to buy away up there within the Arctic circle.

You may think me using my imagination overtime when I admit I have no real reason for saying that I believe the Royal Regiment has been moved from Iceland. Indications point to that, at least in my mind, and if so, our interest in Iceland will soon wane, I am afraid. Indications that may appeal to a woman's intuition, where she has no reason, if logic is brought into account.

Wouldn't it be queer if, before this gets into print, my "deductions" should prove true? General Odium, commander of the Second Division, of which the Royal Regiment is part, has announced his intention of having the whole Division together under his command, and they are to be given intensive training, in readiness, I take it, for the "Big Push" as the troops say, in the spring. Well, as the rest of the Second Division is already in

REDUCTION IN C.O.D. FEE
WILL BENEFIT MANY FIRMS

Several lines of Canadian business will reap considerable advantage from the reduction to be made in the Post Office Cash on Delivery fee for amounts up to and including $2 in value. Hon. William P. Mulock, K.C., M.P., Postmaster General has announced that effective on November 18, the charge will be 10 cents instead of 15 cents.

The reduction of one third—five cents—to be effected will be an encouragement to business in general to increase the use of Post Office C.O.D. when mailing smaller values of merchandise to customers within the Dominion.

The new revision too will prove welcome to manufacturers, jobbers, and in particular to retailers by enlarging their scope to develop new business which the ten cent fee has made worth while. Farmers stand to benefit equally, as the new charge will induce them to use Post Office C.O.D. to greater extent in selling their fresh eggs or produce to city customers. The latter by phoning their orders are assured of fresh commodities and prompt service when the farmer uses Post Office C.O.D. coupled with the low Parcel Post rate applicable to places within a 20 mile radius of the point of mailing.

Hardware firms among others, should be attracted to use of the system now when mailing such items as tools, ironware, kitchenware, paints, auto accessories, flashlight batteries, radio parts, sporting goods or similar stock. The revised charge should prove of equal advantage to jewellery houses, photographic finishing houses, stationery and book firms, and to repair businesses.

An instance of how Post Office C.O.D. has proved its usefulness in rushing spare parts of auto or farm machinery was reported recently in the case of a farmer whose threshing was halted because a small but important piece of the mechanism of his threshing machine had broken, which he was unable to repair. He phoned the dealer in the city who rushed the necessary replacements by the next mail, and so he was saved time and expense.

The Cash on Delivery system introduced by the Canadian Post Office Department in 1922 has established itself firmly as a war at such a meeting the town hall would be well filled, with both men and women in attendance. Last Wednesday only 25 people, including only one man, were present.

MAYOR BOYD WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

"At this time I wish to tell Mr. Mathews that his efficiency and willing assistance at all times lightened and made more pleasant my work as mayor during the past seven years."
"Mayor Boyd has given to the town much more than the town has given him," stated Deputy Vale.
"Is that not a record," inquired Ald. Evans.
"Since 1922," responded the clerk, "possibly I know the immense amount of work the mayor is called upon to do, more than any one else in town. Besides the regular meetings he has to attend all the committee meetings, besides being called many times each day at home. The town needs Mayor Boyd at times like these. People sometimes give vent to feelings, when they do not understand the situation. It is unfortunate that these statements were made. I would ask the mayor to reconsider his decision. The people appreciate his work."

"The Mayor took me into his confidence to-day," stated Reeve Lundy. "I am sure it is a disappointment to all of us. He has played a large part in getting the military camp here, and there are still a hundred and one things to be worked out. He has tried to help people through their difficulties, and has helped them save their properties. When he took over as mayor, the arrears of taxes were $64,000; now they are $13,000. It is a healthy condition. I have never worked with a man that I got along with better, and I hope that he will reconsider."

"I do not like to say things about what I have done," responded the mayor, "but immediately the men began to get laid off at Davis' this summer, they came after me. I wrote over a hundred letters to secure them work at Camp Borden. In connection with landing the military camp, I gave a whole week of my time, besides two Sundays, and made a trip to Ottawa. There are dozens of things the ordinary man doesn't know anything about. I will be a nervous wreck all for nothing. I hope you will take this resignation seriously."

Following the meeting, Ald. Denis Mungovan advised the press that, owing to his duties with the militia, it would be impossible for him to continue in the municipal field.

FARMER KILLED UNDER TRACTOR
Crushed beneath a heavy tractor which overturned in a gravel pit on his farm at Zephyr Tuesday, William Black, aged 45, died several hours later in York County Hospital. The injured man was discovered by his wife, who went to look for him when he failed to turn up at the farm house for lunch. Black was driving the tractor along the side of the gravel pit when the loose earth gave way, dropping the heavy vehicle several feet down into the pit proper. Before he could jump clear the farmer was pinned underneath with the heavy weight crushing his chest. As he was alone at the time, it is not known how long he lay there. He was conscious when his wife found him, but was not able to talk. His wife believes he must have lain there for at least an hour.

authorities.
"The committee is to be commended for this report," spoke up the Mayor. "The Board of Health was anxious that the hydrants be all flushed. This has been done, and it would spoil the taste of the water for a while. The board was not anxious to put the town to any elaborate expense, but this report could be taken advantage of at a later date."
"Could not the cement work be done now before the frost sets in?" inquired Ald. Bowser.
"That is my idea," spoke up Ald. Evans, "the people are paying good rates, and they are entitled to good water. We are justified in carrying an overdraft and paying for it out of water profits."

"Ald. Evans thinks this work should be done immediately, while I am of the opinion that we should wait for three months to see how these new wells hold up," stated Deputy Vale.
"Besides the 35,000 gallons, we are supplying the camp, we have a good 100,000 gallons a day to spare," replied Ald. Evans. "We have plenty of water, but not the quality. If you fixed up the building and put in filtration the water should be a lot different."

"As there seems to be a little difference in the water committee I would like to see a definite suggestion brought forward next council meeting," suggested Ald. Mungovan.
Ald. Bowser inquired about ditching and gravelling a section of the road past the military camp. It was in very bad shape. It was decided to ditch it this fall, leaving the gravelling until spring.

A petition bearing 496 signatures was presented, asking for a vote on the question of one or two year terms.
"We have been misrepresented in the whole thing," spoke up Ald. Evans, "six of us fellows were of the opinion that the people should decide, and three thought that the council should. Which is the more democratic? Calling people illiters is going a step too far."

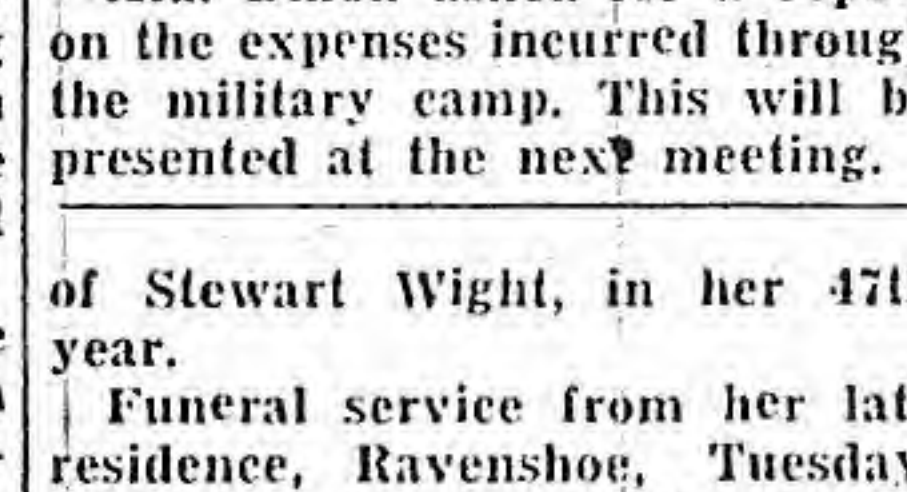

"The man on the street didn't know what it was all about," retorted Ald. Mungovan, "and it was left until he hardly had time to demand a vote."
Two by-laws were then presented to council to arrange for nomination meeting on Friday, Nov. 22, for election on Monday, December 2, and the other to arrange for the vote.

The mayor, reeve, and aldermen Dixon, Higginson and Spillette were named to the court of revision which sits on Tuesday next.
Ald. Dixon asked for a report on the expenses incurred through the military camp. This will be presented at the next meeting.

Secretary's Report Newmarket Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, 1939-40
On September 16, 1939, Mayor Boyd of Newmarket called a meeting in the town hall to discuss the organization of a Newmarket Branch Red Cross Society. The matter was enthusiastically received, and a Provisional Committee formed with Miss Edith Robertson as convenor.

Under the able leadership of Miss Robertson and her committee, a canvass was made in the town, enrolling about 220 members, including those who joined at the first meeting. As a donation of $1 or over entitles the contributor to membership in the organization, of course a great number of members were added during the year.

On September 23rd a meeting of all members was called to elect the officers for the ensuing year. Capt. Innes from headquarters addressed those present on the organization and operation of a Branch Society.

The officers elected are as follows: Hon. pres., Mrs. E. J. Davis; hon. pres., Sir William Mulock; president, Mrs. Walter Stevens; 1st vice pres., Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey; 2nd vice pres., Mrs. C. G. Wainman; secretary, Mrs. Harold McClelland; treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Bosworth.

Executive committee: Mrs. P. J. Tod, Mrs. F. H. Hewson, Mrs. M. B. Seldon, Mrs. W. Brooks, Mr. H. E. Lambert, finance convenor: Mr. P. J. Tod, Mr. F. T. Courtney, Mr. Geo. Wark, Mr. H. M. Gladman, Mr. J. O. Little.

Work committees: Knitting, Mrs. Geo. Vale; committee, Mrs. W. J. Thompson, Mrs. Courtney, Mrs. J. King, Sewing, Mrs. Walter Stevens; committee, Mrs. Wainman, Mrs. Stiver, Mrs. Gibney, Mrs. Spence, Buying wool: Mrs. Vale, Mrs. Bosworth; buying sewing, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Wainman; cutting, Mrs. Bosworth, Mrs. Vandervoort, Mrs. Courtney, Mrs. Wainman, Mrs. Ewing.

The charter of the Newmarket Branch Red Cross Society is dated September 23, 1939. After organizing and securing some funds to purchase materials, the next problem was to secure a location for headquarters. Mrs. Armstrong very generously offered the use of her store on Main Street, in which we were very comfortable indeed until it was required for other purposes, when Mrs. K. Robertson was so very kind as to offer the present equally comfortable headquarters.

The branch rooms have been made so very convenient and attractive by the addition of furniture and cabinets by the Office Specialty Company, Lindeum for the floor by the Robert Simpson Company, and a set of scales for

A group of girls known as the Nellie Forsythe Auxiliary, under the leadership of Mrs. M. B. Seldon, organized early in the year and held regular meetings turning in a nice quantity of work to the local branch.

The surgical dressings, by reason of their nature were worked on in a separate group. Mrs. W. Brooks with Miss Arnold, Miss Gold, Miss Nesbitt and Miss Daniel supervised this work, completing remarkable quantities of dressings.

At an executive meeting on May 8, the entertainment committee was formed, with Mrs. Cody, convenor; Mrs. R. L. Pritchard, secretary, and Mrs. J. E. Morris, treasurer. This committee made up of a group of enterprising members has sponsored a number of very successful functions which provided funds to finance the refugee work of the branch. Group leaders, Mrs. Cody, Mrs. Spooner, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Little.

The following work groups are affiliated with the Newmarket branch and supplied with material with which to work: Yonge Street Community Club, Catholic Young Women's League, Trinity Church W.A., Trinity Church C.G.I.T., Mrs. Nelson Scott's group of eight, Christian Church groups under leadership of Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Innes, St. Paul's Church group, Pine Orchard Auxiliary, Vivian Auxiliary, Newmarket High School Junior Red Cross, Mrs. Cockburn's unnamed group.

The executive committee held 17 meetings during the year, 1939-40, with an average attendance of 10 members.

weighing the wool by the T. Eaton Company. Mr. Wm. Wright made and donated two excellent bandage rollers, and Mrs. McCaffrey, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Tod, and Mrs. Davis kindly loaned their sewing machines for use in the rooms. Sock stretchers by Lawrence Wright.

As the work progressed it was found necessary to enlarge the executive committee and the convenors of the Work Committees and all auxiliary groups were added to the executive.

Mr. Lambert as chairman with his able finance committee organized and carried out a very successful war appeal in November 1939, and also the regular annual campaign in September, 1940. The proceeds of the war appeal, together with many locally sponsored benefits and personal donations made up the funds with which the branch has on a very extensive work program.

The November meeting had an especial treat in the address of Mrs. Mossey from headquarters, who spoke in connection with the war appeal, giving much very interesting information in connection with the society.

In December nursing classes were formed under the direction of Miss Aileen Arnold, with Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. S. King, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Large, Miss Rogers, Miss Nesbitt and Miss Banks to assist her. These classes were very largely attended and proved a great success.

On April 29 the local branch entertained all branches of North York District, and Major Watson from headquarters gave an enlightening address on Red Cross administration and work. Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed.

commands on drill. Next, we understand, came the most startling, amazing performance of the whole evening. This was the mess orchestra, with Sgt. Andrews sitting in at the drums. Sgt. Andrews has just finished a record-breaking tour with the Newmarket R.S.A. Band, but has been hired by M.T.C. 23 to bring the boys solid jive on his bass drum for an indefinite period.

We entered this den of iniquity when Sgt. Gardener was pulling all kinds of flags out of a hat, but we noticed one flag missing—the Cleanliness flag. Maybe the Sgt. thought discretion was the better part of valour when it comes to borrowing that flag after what happened to some of the boys when they tried to borrow it last week. It is really too bad that the N.C.O.'s don't receive sufficient compensation to get Sgt. Gardener a real magician's top hat for his act instead of the "lowly" bowler he used.

Red-nosed Sgt. Stainby popped up next with that well known army poem, "Sam, Pick Up Thy Musket." It seems to us that the Sgt. was able to drop his gun with more finesse than the trainees around camp. We were unable to see Lt. Patton's face when he was confronted with the same apparition as he has so often portrayed over the C.B.C. but we think that he must have been somewhat shocked by such a disreputable looking character.

Although R.S.M. Farrell was laughing so hard that he was unable to display the usual amount of wind he uses when he gives Battalion commands, McNamee's Band proved to be very musically inclined. We say "inclined" for the writer wonders how 230 lb. C.Q.M.S. Easson could carry that weighty three-inch drum on his manly "bay window" and beat out the rhythm he did. If the Sanitation Squad is short one scouring brush they might see C.Q.M.S. Waldrum, who deftly wielded a very new looking brush as his baton. We might also say that the leader might be forgiven for becoming entangled with his sword, as all the equipment around camp is so very modern that all ancient weapons like swords and Ross rifles, are quite unfamiliar to the instructors.

The following skit was entitled "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," but the actors seemed to look more like "Fifteen Faces on the Earroom Floor," to the writer.

THIS REALLY HAPPENED!

On the second or third day of camp, a raw recruit approached Major Geary, V.C., and, with a hearty slap on the shoulder, asked, "Say, Bud, where can I post this letter?" Luckily for the private -- Major Geary has a sense of humour.

ODDITY

It is a wonder that Pte. Wm. Hayes ever got his letter that was addressed to Pte. Wm. Hayes, c/o Concentration Camp #23, Newmarket, Ontario.

The U.S. Army is to acquire 19,000 horses, it is reported.

With all the foliage Sgt. Chalkin was carrying around on his chin, he would make an admirable Old Man Mose, and we must say that the dimples in his cheeks were simply divine. C.S.M. Sheppard seems to be a very excellent poker player for even the feminine wiles of "Uncle Bulgy" (Sgt. Brown) as Lou, couldn't keep him from his card game or whatever he was doing. Even when Lou pulled up her skirt as far as any "lady" does at a stag party, C.S.M. Sheppard remained unperturbed. What will-power or should we say good taste?

Sgt. Bourne rendered a very excellent vocal solo entitled "Perfect Day." No doubt the perfect day for many of the Sgts. will come when they have seen the last of the trainees.

There were many other fine acts, and the boys were so surprised at the various talents of their sergeants that many thought they were being entertained by one of Major Bowe's Road Units instead of the men who so lovingly (?) instruct them in the many mysteries of army life.

If one had noticed closely they would have seen the stage curtains made of army blankets. It just shows you to what ends some people will go to have their blankets aired for them.

All joking aside, the staff of the COLOURS would like, on the part of the trainees, to congratulate and thank the Sergeants for putting on such a grand show. The boys really enjoyed themselves, and by the sounds of the guffaws backstage the Sergeants also had a good time.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2) turn without making any signal. An Orange Crush truck, driven by Harvey Bolton of Toronto, in order to avoid hitting Mr. Lewis, crashed into a Hydro pole cutting it off, and into the traffic signal light. The truck was damaged to the extent of $200.

Mr. Lewis admitted that he had made a mistake. He has been driving a car for twenty years.

A fine of $5 and $4.60 costs was imposed.

Bernard Rye and Harry Draper of Keswick were charged by Howard Draper with assault.

Harry Draper was also charged with damage to property by Charles Draper.

"On October 25th Dad told me to go to Keswick to get some gas," testified Howard Draper, who is 22 years old, the son of Charles Draper, a distant relative of Harry Draper. "About a mile and a half south of Keswick, Bernard Rye's car passed me. He put his hand out for me to stop, and asked me for my permit. I opened the window and when I went to get it, he opened the door up. I gave it to him and he merely glanced over it and went to hand it back when Harry hit me in the left eye with his fist. He had got out of Rye's car. He tried to hit me again and Bernard closed the door and held it with his knees and then Harry hit me through the window. Rye wouldn't let me get out of the car. He didn't say anything. Ethan Morton, who was driving Rye's car, came around. Harry said, 'If you're such a good man, Ethan can handle you.' I said, 'I'm not scared of you' and went on, drove in the driveway and got out to close the gate when they drove up to within about four feet of my car. The lane is about a half a mile from the house. Harry said, 'You're a great man. Why don't you try Ethan?' I said, 'Come on up to the house and bring Ethan up. Dad's up there.' Harry said, 'Go on or I'll smash your car in.' I started the car and thought they would come up behind. Harry picked up some stones and threw them through the window. The other two didn't say anything to me."

"Harry Draper, his wife and family lived next to your farm?" asked K. M. R. Sliver, counsel for accused.

"Yes," replied the complainant. "How far from your home?" "Fifty rods."

"During the time they were staying there, were you paying attention to his wife?"

"No."

"Were you ordered to stay away?"

"About two months ago over the cattle."

"As the result of that warning, you went on his place?"

"Just across the fields. Not near the house."

"You didn't know it was an account of your attentions that Mr. Draper moved?"

"No."

"When your car was stopped, did you call Harry Draper any names?"

"I wouldn't say what I called him. I didn't call him any more than what he called me."

"I told the boy to go and get some gas that night," testified Charles Draper. "I went out to take the car the next morning, and couldn't make out what the marks were. I took it to Mr. Nesbitt's and he thought it must have been knocked into a cement culvert."

"Did you ask your son how the marks got on the car?" asked Mr. Sliver.

"He didn't just tell me. I was kind of in a hurry to get to Newmarket."

"Was there any trouble between Harry Draper and your son?"

"Harry used to be over and his wife. They were friendly enough."

"I suggest to you in your presence Harry Draper warned your son not to go on his property?"

"I guess he did some time. Harry came in to me and said, 'What about my wife?' He said, 'I don't know if there's anything betwixt she and that boy or not.'"

Bernard Rye testified that Harry Draper and Ethan Morton came to his place about 8.30 that night to see if he could help straighten out the trouble. After talking to Mrs. Draper, they went down the road to make sure if it was Howard's car that had been driving past the house. He denied holding the car door, and didn't see any assault. While they were arguing, Rye went back and got in the car.

"Nobody knows what I have gone through this summer," said Harry Draper. "After moving away and buying this house, and the same thing happening again. I couldn't stand it any longer. I poked him two or three times. His father had said that his son must not take my wife out in his car, and I tried to damage it enough for him to see it, by throwing these stones."

"I had an appointment with Howard Draper that night," said Mrs. Draper. "I was to meet him down by Dyer's. I've worried my husband all summer to the limit. It is all my fault. Our home is broken up."

"This was a cowardly assault, Mr. Draper," said His Worship.

"You may be in ill health, but you made sure you had lots of protection. First you picked up a constable, and then collected reinforcements. You have no right to take the law into your own hands. You are relying on your ill-health, and the fact that you haven't any money. You still think you were justified in doing it. You will have to settle your differences with your wife. She's the one to blame. I am going to take into consideration what your counsel has said, suspend sentence for one year, and bind you over in the sum of $100 to keep the peace for one year. You will have to pay the court costs of $7.50. I am adjourning for judgment the damage to property charge."

"Mr. Rye, I am dismissing the charge of assault against you," ruled His Worship. "As a police officer, you had no business interfering in this. You assisted him to assault this man. You, as a police officer, took him along so he could do it. You should have arrested him right there and then."

Charged with speeding by Constable Dunham, Archie McLean of Meaford was fined $8 and costs; Joseph K. Bruce, Toronto, $8 and costs; Fred G. Long, Toronto, $8 and costs; Beattie Cadillac Chevrolet, Toronto, $8 and costs; T. J. Church, Bradford, $8 and costs.

Charged with speeding by Constable Ferguson, Fred T. Wardell, Niagara Falls, was fined $10 and costs.

TRAINEES CONDUCT CHURCH SERVICE

It takes all kinds of people to make a platoon, and #19 certainly has all kinds of them. Off-hand, we can think of sailors, electricians, clerks, engineers, bankers, draftsmen, milkmen, truck drivers, advertising men, production superintendents, box-makers, machinists, aircraft workers, designers, and -- of all people -- a sincere young man who is now in training for the Baptist ministry -- Pte. Norman Brooks.

On Sunday, October 27, quiet, unassuming Pte. Brooks conducted single-handed the sermon at the regular Sunday evening session of the Newmarket Christian Church -- possessor of the tallest spire in Newmarket. He was assisted by several other boys from our camp, Pte. Briggs Creighton, who read the scripture, Pte. Grainger, who led the service and sang a solo, and Pte. John Tanick, who led in prayer. Pte. Brooks' sermon was "God's Way of Salvation," which he delivered to a capacity audience.

LETTER FROM ICELAND

B67216 Pte. Wilfred Pipher Iceland, October 7, 1940. Sunnudagur.

Kaer Mooir: Well, Mother, I am learning Icelandic. We got an issue of a book to-day called "Icelandic For Soldiers." At the top of this letter you will find some words written in Icelandic, so you can see it's going to be some fun learning their language.

I am fine, and hope this letter finds you and the rest in the best of health. Only three months until Christmas, the time flies pretty fast in this lousy country.

To-day it's wonderful out, and the mountains covered with snow and the bright sun shining on them sure does make a pretty picture. I took some snaps this morning and I hope they turn out O.K.

I guess the leaves on the trees back home are changing into pretty colors. Last night it was pretty cold and this morning the steam from the hot springs was quite thick. It looks something like a smoke-screen.

While I go on my rounds each morning with the prisoners there are some Icelandic kids and I give (Continued on Page 8, Col. 2)

The Express-Herald sponsored the Soldiers' Comforts Fund which the boys overseas appreciate so much.

A celebrated violinist was urged to play his fiddle at an aristocratic affair on Park Avenue, New York.

"How much do you want?" he was asked.

"Five hundred dollars is my price," he replied.

"Of course, you understand," said the hostess, "that you will not mingle with the guests."

"Oh, in that case," was the retort, "I'll do it for four hundred."—Table Talks.

NEWS FROM KING CITY AND DISTRICT

Inclement weather failed to dampen the aspirations of 46 entrants in the annual King and Vaughan plowing match held on Nov. 1, on the farm of A. L. McNeill, Vellore. The entries were very slightly below last year's.

Douglas Clubine, Woodbridge, won the plowman's trophy, the T. Eaton Co. prize. The best equipped teams were entered by George Brownlee of Nashville, and Scott Clarkson of Maple, the latter had the best going team. Youngest contestant was 11-year-old George Crane of New Scotland.

He was given special prize as the youngest plowman. Annie Walkington, daughter of C. E. Walkington, King, played a lone feminine role of the match, winning second place tractor class low cut class.

The fields were ideal except the stubble, and having been surface worked became quite muddy as the rain continued, and many were be-carrying Mr. McNeill's real estate on their shoes, as they proceeded to the town hall at Vellore to enjoy the repast.

The hand of tragedy reached forth stealthily in the dark hours of late Saturday night, Nov. 2, and claimed George Shepherd Stone, aged 47, of King, as its untimely victim. George left Richmond Hill at 10.15 p.m., Nov. 2, with a hunting party, on a northbound hunter's special for South Magnetawan. George Agas was one of the party also. Deceased had taken his blanket, stating he intended to sleep. His absence was not noted until some time later, when the train was near its destination. His mutilated body was found on the C.N.R. right-of-way, near Port Carling. He had fallen from the train, and either the train he was on or the following train had passed over his body.

The Stone family have been aware of recent heart attacks, and are of the opinion that a fatal seizure may have come upon him. The body was brought to his late residence on Monday afternoon, and the funeral service was held on Tuesday, Nov. 5, from King United Church, at 2.30 p.m.

Mr. Stone, always known as George, obtained his high school training at Newmarket, and entered into the employ of the railway as mail clerk, about the age of 18, at Calgary, Alberta. When 21 years old, he enlisted in the Canadian forces of the last war, serving four years in active service, with the famous 10th battalion of which he became regimental sergeant-major. He won five army medals, and his commission at the Battle of the Somme.

In 1919 he married Lorna Crossley of King, and some time later he settled in his father's business in King, the bakery business. Since his father's death 10 years ago this month, he has managed this huge business concern.

Deceased was past master of the Robertson Masonic 292, King; a member of the I.O.O.F., a member of the Orange Lodge, and past president of North York Veterans' Association. He also served two terms as trustee of King public school. He belonged to the United Church.

The only son of Mrs. Stone and the late George H. Stone, deceased was widely known in many circles. Like his father, his generosity and kindness of heart was unbounded. His was the virtue that found its quiet way into lives of the unfortunate; that entered into the unwritten records of worthy causes, church and community welfare. His early passing and the painful circumstances of his death, have cast a deep sorrow over the community and a lasting grief to his family. Surviving are his widow and two children, Jack and Marjorie; his mother, Mrs. George H. Stone; two sisters, Mrs. Thos. Proctor (Blanche) of Schomberg; Mrs. H. H. Whitney (Grace), Singhampton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bishop were recently tendered a reception and presentation, following their recent marriage. A well-filled purse was presented by Delbert Arlow on behalf of the community, the address read by Evelyn Courtney, and Mr. T. Mc-

Murphy was the chairman.

The 26th annual conference of Religious Education Association of West York Deanery was held at St. Mary's Magdalene Church, Schomberg, under the chairmanship of the president, Fred C. Cook, of Bradford, opening prayers by Rev. T. J. Dew of Mimico, and address on "Education in Worship" by Rev. E. L. Wasson, Transfiguration Church, Toronto. The speaker told of experiments he had successfully tried out along lines of Children's Church and Junior Congregation. "Sunday schools are not accomplishing their tasks unless they train the young to worship," he pointed out. The discussion following was stimulating and interesting, wherein the meeting felt that such measures could well be adapted.

Officers elected were: Hon. pres., Rev. J. B. Creighton; pres., F. C. Cook; vice-pres., W. J. Whitten; secretary, Rev. Gordon Channon; committee, W. L. McGowan, Rev. R. S. Mason, Rev. J. H. Colcough, Rev. R. K. Perdue.

Mrs. Edward Knowles of Andover, Mass., visited her brother, Wells McDonald, recently.

Miss Madeline Tankard and Mrs. L. Tankard of Cleveland attended Bud Hambly's wedding in Toronto on Saturday.

It is to be hoped that fine weather continues for Teston church anniversary on Nov. 10, and the hot fowl supper on Nov. 13. Kettleby Anglican church served more than 600 at the turkey dinner Oct. 30. Teston is well established for its hospitable reputation.

Nov. 28 is the date of the big bazaar at King United Church, tea and sale of heaps of useful gifts.

On Saturday, Nov. 10, All Saints' W.A., King, will hold afternoon tea and baking sale in the parish hall.

HOG CHOLERA

-A MENACE!

Active Co-operation of every Ontario Farmer is Necessary to STAMP IT OUT

ONTARIO has a really serious outbreak of Hog Cholera. This deadly infectious disease of swine has reached alarming proportions in the counties of Essex and Kent, with smaller outbreaks in Lambton, Elgin, Norfolk and Haldimand. If the disease is not controlled it is certain to spread to neighbouring counties. Every precaution must be taken. The Ontario Department of Agriculture is actively co-operating with the Federal Department of Agriculture and farmers in their efforts to stamp out this disease.

If the spread of Hog Cholera is not checked NOW, every pig raiser in Ontario stands to lose. Only the immediate and wholehearted co-operation of every Ontario farmer will stamp out this menace to the hog industry.

HOW TO PREVENT HOG CHOLERA

The Departments of Agriculture strongly recommend every pig raiser to take the following precautions:

1. Confine all hogs to pens or yards that have been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected with an approved disinfectant.
2. In centres of heavy infection, if possible, keep hogs away from straw stacks as this is a place usually frequented by birds such as starlings, sparrows, and pigeons, which may have come direct from an infected barnyard. Destroy as many pigeons, sparrows and starlings as possible.
3. Keep dogs out of the pig pen. Keep your dog under control in the daytime and tied up at night. Keep stray dogs off your farm.
4. Burn any dead pigs or bury them so deeply that stray dogs will not dig them up.
5. Keep all doors closed and protect the windows so that no dogs or birds can enter the pens.
6. Do not visit neighbours' hog pens nor allow neighbours to visit yours.
7. Always have a pan of strong disinfectant solution just inside the door so that anyone entering the pen can disinfect his shoes, AND INSIST ON ITS USE.
8. Keep livestock trucks off your farm—if you have stock to ship, load up at the end of the lane. Disease-bearing refuse dropping from the bottom of the truck might easily be carried to your hogs.
9. DO NOT PURCHASE "FEEDER HOGS" except from dependable sources within a clean district.
10. Isolate newly purchased breeding stock for at least three weeks before permitting them to run with hogs already on the premises.
11. In areas where hog cholera exists be extremely careful about breeding outside sows with your boar.
12. Where hogs are serum treated, follow to the letter instructions given by the Veterinary Inspector of the Federal Department of Agriculture.
13. Feed only carefully balanced rations. Well-fed hogs have the strongest resistance to disease.

Hog Cholera is highly contagious and can spread very rapidly. The above precautions, put into practice, TODAY, will do much to prevent the spread of this deadly disease.

KESWICK

The Christian Church S.S. enjoyed to the fullest extent, the annual Hallowe'en masquerade party in the Sunday school rooms on Friday evening, Nov. 1. Guests of the evening were the Baldwin
S.S., who enjoyed with Keswick scholars the jolliest of evenings.
Thirty-five of the large crowd who attended were in costume, all splendidly representing a varied lot of characters. Games and music were a part of the entertainment, with prizes and a generous lunch and treats for all.

Mrs. Wm. Purdy left on Thursday last to spend the winter in Toronto with her daughter, Mrs.
Arthur Morlon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crate are moving to Newmarket for the winter.

Miss Belle Marritt of Richmond Hill visited her father and other relatives here over the weekend.

Hallowe'en passed very quietly save for the usual house to house canvassing by the children.
We'd like to say "Thanks" to the Keswick children this year who, instead of bothering homes where there was sickness, sent instead lovely boxes for the sick ones. It was a thoughtful kindness and the children deserve credit for it. No damage was reported any place in the village.

Mrs. Charles Willoughby entertained Thursday evening last at a Hallowe'en party for her granddaughter, Miss Pauline Pollock, young daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Carson Pollock.

Another day of pheasant hunting was enjoyed by the hunters on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. John King and daughter, Jean, spent Sunday with Mrs. King's sister, near Richmond Hill.

Everyone has enjoyed the faste of Indian summer we have been having.

Mr. Jim Cole, who has been on the sick list, is around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pegg are improving their home with inside redecorations and painting, with Mr. Winston Prosser in charge of the work.

Work meetings of the Keswick Red Cross Society are held every Tuesday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the United church. Last Tuesday four quilts for war sufferers were quilted.

The business meeting of the Keswick branch of the Canadian Red Cross will be held on Monday, November 11, in the public school. The meeting will begin at 7.30 p.m. standard time.

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church will hold their regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, November 14, Mrs. Jud Cole in charge. At this meeting, starting at 2 o'clock standard time, a White Gift service will be held when donations of vegetables are asked for the Fred Victor Mission in Toronto, and donations of clothing for the missionary bale to be sent to United Church mission stations in Northern Ontario.

Anniversary services will be held in the United Church on Sunday, November 10. Rev. Mr.
Richard E. Morton of Newcastle will preach at both morning and evening services. Rev. Morton attended Keswick church as a boy and young man, and is well known and popular here. It is an occasion of pride to the local church, to have one of its former members who has been doing worth-while work in the Methodist and United church ministry for a number of years, to return for the anniversary services this year.

The Mission Band of the United Church will meet on Friday afternoon, November 8th, at 4.15 p.m. This is to be an important meeting. The members of the Mission Band welcome back their leader, Miss Helen Smith, who has been visiting in the West.

At the Sunday evening service of the United Church, a junior choir of girls, under the leadership of Miss Gilroy, sang two selections very sweetly. Rev. Mr.
Lapp told the story of David, the shepherd king, in an unforgettable manner.

The Women's Institute held a very enjoyable meeting on Wednesday evening, October 30th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pollock. There was a short business meeting, after which the husbands gave the programme.
Mr. Roy Pollock and Mr. Davison gave selections and told jokes.

Quite a number from here attended the Women's Institute Convention in Toronto this week.
The Leadership Training Course for leaders came to a successful conclusion on Wednesday evening, October 30th, in Queens-ville United Church. A number from here passed the examinations of the school. All attending received much inspiration and information from the course.

The Field Comforts Committee of Keswick Branch of the Red Cross Society advises those who have not given to the Christmas Box Fund for the boys, and desire to do so, that more are to be packed on Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. W. Vail's home.

THEY SHALL NOT "PASS"

Last week-end our passes which were promised in good faith were cancelled in order to make the Sunday Parade a success.
Many trainees, we know, were down at heart, but we forget to remember that there are many N.C.O.'s who haven't received a single pass since their arrival, and in the army spirit they say
"Orders are orders." It does no good to look back and remember wrongs that have befallen you.
Live in the present! As to the future, it is but a prophecy of the present.

Hallowe'en brings strange visitors. We were sitting round the fire, when suddenly "we heard a tapping," and the man of the house, armed with a flashlight, decided to investigate.

Of course we all know that NO one can predict what may be abroad on Hallowe'en, so when a Chinese madarin, an old lady leaning on a cane and a very dapper young gentleman, all well masked, entered, we accepted them as part of a Hallowe'en mystery, and pressed refreshments upon them.

It was reassuring to find they were human, and we hope they'll come again.

Miss Sadie McQueen attended the teachers' convention held at Richmond Hill on Thursday.

The Hallowe'en party held at the Bogartown school on the afternoon of that day, was a very pleasant event. Parents and friends of the children turned out en masse and enjoyed the proceedings thoroughly from the Red Cross meeting which was carried on as usual, and entirely by the children, to the program of songs and recitations which followed, and the whole program reflected great credit on their teacher, and on Miss Gladys Harper, whose leading of the children in the paths of music, has been most successful.

A silver collection was taken, and a nice sum realized for the Red Cross work of the children.
They are going to embark on the making of a quilt, which, we think, is a mighty fine undertaking for small Red Cross lads and lasses.

Things

"November"
November's full of things that be just contradictions, strange to see—we celebrate Remembrance Day, while guns their dreadful music, play as if to show that Peace has gone, some far off world, to rest, upon. And nature stages something strange, as temperatures may have a range, from well below the freezing mark, to where the summer breezes park.

Without there may be sleet or rain, or snowflakes pat against the pane, but in your home, fires gleam and glow, and bid defiance to the snow. Or maybe Indian summer steals across your view, like movie reels. The soft, blue haze that summer brings its graceful veils o'er stark trees flings, and sounds come mellowed to the ear, unlike those frost makes sharp and clear. Novembers seem to have been full of openings of new kinds of school.
And in November 17, Toronto first felt the great heaven that normal schools are bound to spread, as teachers learn to earn their bread. In November, too, a dental school taught doctors how to fill and pull and drill just like a bumble-bee when they a cavity see. The fields are turned in furrows brown and cones the spruce and pine trees crown, the golden rod has turned to gray, only things that look quite gay.
are pumpkins sheltered near a shed before they find their winter bed, or cabbages in palest green, that from the fields the farmers glean. And now, today's a day of sun—it feels as if spring had just begun, and yet, behind its smiling face, of winter we may find a trace, for when green leaves once formed a screen, naught but bare branches can be seen.

Some corn still stands like wigwags small, but no papooses round them crawl, but maybe elves and fairies may dance round them at the close of day.
And so, November sere and brown, has forfeited the summer's crown of fruit and flowers, and brilliant wings and crowns herself with other things, with cedar boughs and mountain ash, whose berries like fair rubies flash. November—call it what you will—a month of contradictions still.
